

The

Behavior Hub

Old Battle. New Strategies.

Learn to help your child communicate, connect, and manage their strong emotions by working one-on-one with a behavior therapist.

- Therapists are highly trained and experienced providers who are each licensed in their specialties
- Wide range of services including prosocial, de-escalation, and self-regulation skills as well as behavior management, interpersonal communication, and anxiety/depression coping skills
- Scripted, easy-to-implement strategies
- Open communication via email, text, and other online media
- In-home or convenient meeting locations
- Fees are established on an hourly or per session rate
